TAFT MAY TAKE THE STUMP

PLAN TO STAY IN CINCINNATI IS SUBJECT TO AMENDMENT.

Candidate Likes Folitical Speaking if It Isn't Too Strenuous-Will Take Up Bryan's Slogan, "Shall the People Rule." in To-day's Talk to Virginians

Hor Springs, Aug. 20.-Mr. Taft's speech before the Virginians here to-morrow will be his most important utterance since his speech of acceptance. In it he will answer Bryan's question "Shall the people rule?" and will compare the efforts of the Republican party to meet the abuses of the trusts and monopolies with what the Democratic party has tried to do. The speech also will contain an appeal to the independent Democratic voters of the

There will probably be 5,000 persons here. How they are going to get here is one of the problems that nobody except the railroad officials has attempted to figure out. The twenty-five mile branch road running up from Covington has some tremendous grades and only the railroad on again have any idea where the trains are going to be put when they get here. There are no sidings to speak of. If the trains line up from the station the tailenders will find they will have a mountain or two to climb before they get to the baseball field, where the speaking is to take

The chances are, too, that there will be some hungry Virginians here to-morrow unless they bring their own lunches. The hotels can't accommodate more than 1,000. The festive sandwich counter, however, has made its appearance. The new Homestead Hotel, where Mr. Taft is stopping, will close its bar, but the Virginians who have accumulated a thirst will find the Magnesia Springs running, or if they want mething hot they can try sulphur water.

Mr. Taft said to-day that his plan to stay in Cincinnati during the entire campaign is subject to amendment, although at the present he had no intention of deviating from it. Personally, Mr. Taft enjoys a speaking tour.

After the first week of campaigning and you have what you want to say in mind," commented Mr. Taft, "it is a pleasing experience provided you speak only once a day. I did it in 1904 and enjoyed every I spoke in New York, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Rhode Island, Maine and Vermont. course campaigning from the back of of course campaigning from the oach of a Pullman car, speaking twenty or thirty times in a day, is an awful experience. There is certainly no pleasure in that and I don't know how much good it does."

The Republican leaders in many of the doubtful States, like Indiana and Missouri, are an xious to have Mr. Taft deliver at least one speech in each of their States and it is likely that strenucus efforts will be made is likely that strengtus efforts will be made before the campaign is over to get him to go out on the stump. If Mr. Taft does describe to out losse from his home city he will leave the question of itinerary to the national committee, for if he attempted to decide for himself he would be swamped with invitations.

Judge D. B. Woodmansee of the Court of Common Pleas, Cinclunati, who was president of the Nacional League of Republican Clube in the 1898 campaign, has this to say to-day in regard to the omission of Secator Foraker's name from the list of speakers at the opaning meeting of the national campaign at Youngstown, Ohio, on September 5.

Foraker I regret the impression that has gone abroad because of an alleged interview with the Senator reported from New York in which he was made to say that the failure to be invited to speak at the the failure to be invited by speak a transactional campaign opening was a personal humiliation. Although I have not talked with Judge Tart or any one who has to do with the selection of speakers for that important occasion, yet I feel sure that no personal humiliation was intended.

e from the fact that we have had the Republican party cannot and must not be forgotten, and no one shall regret more than myself if he finds it impossible to serve the party in this appointn't campaign."

The candidate had this to say to-day in regard to James S. Sherman's speech of acceptance.

There read with a great deal of pleasure interest Mr. Sherman's foroible state-of on the issues of the campaign and demonstration that the overshadowing us of the coming election is whether Rossevelt's administration shall be indorsed.

I have read also with peculiar gratification the wonderful testimonial to Mr. Shermen's character and ability which Elihu Root, as a neighbor and intimate friend, pad from his heart to the Vice-Presidential andidate.

William S. Edwards of Charleston. W. Va. was charman of the delegation to the ago convention from that State, was so-day to invite Mr. Taft to take another there to-day to invise mr. latt to take another trip over the West Virginia mountains. Mr. Edwards wanted him to go to a fishing resort. The candidate dedined with thanks. Apparently one drive over the West Virginia mountains was sufficient. Then there was the chance that Mr. Taft might find himself correlled again among the West Virginia factionists, just as he was at White Sulphur Edwinner.

Gactionists, just as he was at White Sulphur Springs.

"West Virginia is safe for Judge Taft." said Mr. Edwards. "The defection of the Baltimore Sun to the Taft column, which leaves Bryan without a single important newspaper in the State of Maryland, is an index of the powerful current already setting in not only in Maryland but in Virginia and West Virginia as well. The movement in West Virginia in Judge Taft's favor is among the substantial business men of the State.

"The purely local contention between the Scherr and the Swisher factions will in nowise jeopardize the support which the Republicans and hundreds of Democrats will give to the Taft electors."

Here is a letter that comes to Mr. Taft from seventeen-year-old Bessie White of Walville, Wash.:

"I am 17 years old and in the second year high school. Now I will tell you how many there are in my immediate family to vote for Taft and Sherman. My father and four big brothers, four brothers-in-law, two uncles, three cousins and papa. Now if all Pepublican girls could count as many votes for Taft Bryan would surely go into retirement for all time.

"Well I hope he will get left, for I do all Pepublican girls could surely go into retirement for all time.

Well, I hope he will get left, for I do not like to patch clothes, and mamma says that was her trade during the last Democratic demonstration. Walville and Lewis county and Washington will roll up a good majority for the Republican candidate and continuation of prosperity.

Hope to send congratulations in November to Hon. William H. Taft, President-elect of the United States.

Mr. Met-calfe has the copy well in hand and now waits final approval of several chapters that have been rewritten since the first meeting here a week ago. Mr. Bryan had a long talk over the tele-phone this morning with Chairman Mack, and the latter is to summon a number of leaders to confer with Bryan. It is hinted here that some little friction has developed at headquarters with Secretary Woodson somewhere in the middle of it, but its exact nature is not stated. Mr. Bryan goes to Chicago with some additional plans he wants to submit, all looking toward a vigorous pushing of a speaking cam-paign.

This afternoon Mr. Bryan had a long consultation with C. O Stockslager, who came all the way from Idaho to discuss and present the mixup in the Democratic situation there. Stockslager heads the anti-Dubois faction as a candidate for Senator. He declined to say what conclusions were arrived at, but the chances are regarded good for arriving at some basis by which the success of the national ticket will not be endangered.

Despite the fact that he was a very busy man to-day Mr. Bryan yielded to the persuasion of a moving picture man who said he came direct from Oyster Bay. Mr. Bryan showed him how he soted when around the house and in his ordinary home life, and the film man followed him around with his machine.

Bryan sent Johnson a telegram of con-gratulation but said that he would prefer that Mr. Johnson make it public. What he said for publication about it was: "It is a great compliment to Gov. Johnson to be nominated for a third term and I think that his candidacy will help the national ticket in Minnesota."

Joseph H. Morrison, a soldier of the Span-ish-American war from Tennessee, seedy and out of luck, called on Mr. Bryan to-day for aid in getting a pension. He got it. The man walked to Fairview for lack of

NEW MOVE UPON M'CARREN. Protest to Board of Elections Will Have a

"Aside from the fact that we have had many campaign openings in Ohio without our Senators taking part, it can at once be understood that a very important question of party policy arose this year.

"Every one can appreciate that it was an embarrassing situation. Senator Foraker in his Chamber of Commerce speech in Cincinnati only a short time ago made a severe attack upon the policies of President Roosevelt. How dould the party which intends to wage the fight, standing squarely on those policies, consistently invite him to take the most conspicuous part in the campaign. It was practically impossible, and most of Senator Foraker's friends see it that way.

"I will yield to no-one in my admiration for Senator Foraker. The splendid service has heretofore rendered in behalf of the Republican party cannot and must not be forgotten, and no one shall regret more than myself to has the statistic manner. The Board of Elections in Brooklyn will Sinnott and Patrick F. Lynoh, leaders of the Twenty-second and Twenty-third Assembly districts. Timothy L. Woodruff never forgave him for the kick he made against his régime a couple of years ago, and Sharkey's strength has been so undermined that he has expressed his willingness to retire as the executive committeeman of the district and thus avoid a factional clash at the primaries. Alderman Wentz, who directed the movement to overthrow him and who is a close friend of Mr. Woodfruff, will probably be his successor.

DEMOCRATS FOR HUGHES TOO

PEOPLE'S INSTITUTE HEARS HOW THEY WOULD VOTE.

. Aspinwall Hodge and Others Say Repub licans Must Renominate Governor-A Comparison Wherein He Outshines Roosevelt, Who Yields to Popular Cry.

J. Aspinwall Hodge, the chief speaker at a meeting last night of the People's Institute Club A at 318 East Fifteenth street called to discuss the question, Should Gov. Hughes be renomianted, in a speech in which he scored the Republican party bosses strongly advocated the renomination of the Governor and declared that he would vote for Gov. Hughes this time if he was renominated even though he himself was a Democrat. The sentiment of the meeting, as evidenced by the frequent applause that greeted the mention of the Governor's name, was strongly in favor of Mr. Hughes's renomination.

in fact, when John Brooks Leavitt, who described himself as an independent Democrat, said that Gov. Hughes should be kept at Albany several terms and then asked rhetorically "How long should we keep him there?" one man in the back of the room velled "For life!" LINCOLN, Aug. 20 .- Mr. Bryan left to-there?" one man in the back of the room yelled "For life!"

"The Republican organization," said Mr. Hodge, "has done all in its power to obstruct the Governor. It has refused to pass bills he has urged—bills that were necessary to the people's welfare. It has refused to dismiss a public official who was to say the least negligent in his public conduct. It has put little picayune things in his way to obstruct and harass him.

"The party to-day would rather go down to defeat than elect him, but this is a Presidential year and they don't dare risk the Presidential election with all the bread and loaves and fishes that come with the winning of such an election. Their nomination of Gov. Hughes is necessary if for no other reason than that the people of the United States and of the State of New York are determined on having their own way.

"They are going to rule and are not going to be ruled by the bosses. It is to the benefit of the Republican party to renominate a man who is the choice of the people and who stands for rule by the people. The candidacy of Gov. Hughes insures the nomination of the best man that the Democrats can produce. We are therefore assured of a leader worthy to fill the Governor's chair if Hughes be renominated. "The leaders don't want Hughes. When that holy saint Thomas Platt pronounced his benediction for all anti-Hughes men, making me feel all the more strongly for Hughes, I tried as a Democrat and a lawyer to see what could be urged against the Governor, but I was stumped for arguments except perhaps that he was too good for his party."

"President Roosevelt," he said, "is a man of high principles, of good impulses;

Hughes with President Roosevelt at the latter's expense.

"President Roosevelt," he said, "is a man of high principles, of good impulses; but I don't call him a man of sturdy character. Look over his public record and you will find that he never stood for a principle unless it was popular. He is not a man to sacrifice popularity to principle. Whenever he advocates a measure he wants to be sure that he has the popular approval. Hughes, like Cleveland, puts principle before popularity."

GOV. HUGHES AT OSWEGO. He Talks to a Large Crowd on Local Good

OSWEGO, N. Y., Aug. 20.-Gov. Charles E. Hughes was the special guest of honor to-day at public exercises held at Fort Ontario aection with the annual convention of the New York State Firemen's Associations A crowd numbering 20,000 listened to the Governor's address, which was delivered from an improvised stand on the parade ground. Following the exercises a public reception was given by the Governor and the Secretary of State, John S. Whalen, who also spoke.

Gov. Hughes arrived here last night and was the guest of Col. John T. Mott, Republican State committeeman, and Luther W. Mott. He was entertained at luncheon by L. W. Mott at the Oswego County Club. An organ recital was given in his honor at St. Paul's Catholic Church, and the rector, the Very Rev. Dean Michael Barry, met him on the church steps and in a brief address warmly commended his administration, saying that the Governor possessed charac-teristics based upon motives of religion and predciting that he would preside over the destinies of the nation from the White

Hughes said that although he was himself a Democrat he admired the Governor for his fidelity to his oath of office. Mr. Bulger predicted that Gov. Gov. Hughes explained in detail his reasons for vetoing the mutual insurance bill, under which the volunteer fire companies would have benefited. In speaking of the ment is not maintained in these communities through the State, where the interests of the people are so obvious, where mal-administration so directly affects them." I want to see the day that there will be little tripping to Albany for interference

Regarding his veto of the Mutual bill, he highly commended the work of the firemen, but said that the bill in question did not provide proper safeguards, and that in one respect it was a violation of the

"One may have good will toward an association or a particular interest," the Governor said, "but it is very different to deal with a particular measure. If you do differently in the Executive Office and sign bills because this or that interest wants it done you will soon love your self respect bills because this or that interest wants it done, you will soon lose your self respect and a man who does this ought to be submerged by the unanimous condemnation of the people."

NEGRO'S BOLD ATTACK ON WOMAN. She Fought Him Off and He Was Caught

After a Chase.

Mrs. Lillian Merry, the wife of au inventor, was alone in her apartments on the ground floor of 273 West Tenth street late vesterday when there was a knock on the door. She opened it and was confronted by a negro, who asked if a Miss Harrison lived there. Mrs. Merry said no such person lived in the house. Then the negro asked if the number of the house wasn't 252. The woman told him 252 was across the street and he

Twenty minutes later another knock came, and the negro was there again. Mrs. Merry attempted to close the door, but the negro put his foot against it and forced it open. Before she could acream he grabbed her by the throat.

Mrs. Merry, who is athletic and a good wimmer, fought with all her strength, but the negro shoved a bunch of keys into her mouth. A dog named Minto, a pet of the family, bounded into the room and tackled the negro. The dog growled and the negro began to retreat. He ran through the flat to the parlor in the front and attempted to get out through the window, but it was locked and he decided to waste no time. With the dog hanging to his coat tails and Mrs. Merry striking him with her fists, the negro ran back to the dining room, thence to the hallway and to the street. Mrs. Merry went after him at her best speed, calling for help.

A crowd joined in the chase and the negro ran through West Tenth street and turned down Greenwich toward Charles treet. A dozen men hopped off a car and caught him at Charles street. When Mrs. Merry came running up she explained what had happened and the men jumped on the negro. Mrs. Merry took a hand in he pummelling and got in a few blows before Policeman Moore of the Churles street station got on the job.

Moore kept the crowd off with his club and landed the negro in the Charles street station. The negro said he was Charles Rowe, a cook on the steamboat Ida of the EASIER FOR MISDEMEANANTS. Magistrate Butts Has a Plan to Summon Them to Court.

When the committee on codification of the Board of Aldermen meets next week a resolution drafted by Police Magistrate Arthur C. Magistrate Butta said yesterday that he believes it is unjust and severe for a person taken into oustody on a minor complaint to be looked up in a cell and accorded the same treatment as a Magistrate Butts is convinced that the ws are unusually severe in the treatment of trivial offenders. A pedler arrested for selling without a license or a driver nabbed for not making a proper turn get the same treatment as a burglar or a murderer when taken to a police station. Magistrate Butts first got the idea from arrests by Inspector Burfeind, whose district takes in the Ghetto. Violators of corporation ordinances have been looked up all night, unable to get bail, while the more serious offenders have been able to get bondsmen.

Magistrate Butta's resolution, which will be introduced by Alderman Max Levine, chairman of the committee on codification, provides that no person charged with a violation of a corporation ordinance shall be arrested. Every policeman will be supplied with blanks for the pedigree of persons who violate city ordinances, and he will instruct the offender to appear in court the next morning. of trivial offenders. A pedler arrested for will instruct the offender to appear in court the next morning.

If the accused refuses to give his or her pedigree or doesn't appear in court $25 will be the fine in addition to the punishment for the ordinance violation. Magistrate Butts believes that this scheme will not only do away with an unnecessary hardship but will relieve materialy the congestion in the courts. Also it will keep more policemen patrolling the streets. Last year there were 18,000 arrests for corporation violations, he said, which means that that many posts were uncovered while that that many posts were uncovered while the policemen were taking the prisoners to station houses.

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 20. -Gov. John A. ohnson's acceptance to-day of the Democratic nomination for a third term as Governor of Minnesota, which was made at the State convention yesterday after he had repeatedly declared his unwillingness to run, has put a new phase on the Minnesota political situation.

Democrats are confident that the State ticket will win this fall and carry with the national ticket in Minnesota and the Northwest as well. "There is no other way out of the situa-

The acceptance of the nomination by Johnson joins the issue fairly in this State.

J. F. Jacobson will bear the Republican standard while John A. Johnson will again seek to make a Democratic State out of a Republican stronghold. Neither side is belittling the possible strength of the other and the contest between Jacobson and Johnson will be picturesque.

Gov. Johnson had apparently considered his decision well during the night, and upon reaching the Capitol announced that he had decided to accept his kiduapping by the Democratic party.

"I feet," he said, "that there is nothing else for me to do. I sincerely have not sought this nomination, but the party thought otherwise. Of course I appreciate sincerely the high compliment that has been paid me in this third nomination, but the party gave me no chance to withdraw. Had they sent a committee to me yesterday I would have declined so positively that there could have been no further doubt as to my position. But the convention having adjourned without giving me a chance to speak there is only one thing for me to do and that is to accept their decision in do and that is to accept their decision in preference to my own."

MRS. FREDERICK WOERZ ROBBED. Daylight Burglars Get 85,000 Worth of Booty, but Miss 860,000 Worth.

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 20.-While Mrs. Frederick W. Woerz, wife of a New York prewer, was appearing in court this morning as a witness in an assault case against gardener in the employ of W. A. Park, whose home the Woerzes popupy at Belle Haven, thieves opened a window from the plazza and took jewelry valued at more than $5,000 and some money from a bureau and escaped without drawing the attention of two servants who were in the house.

That the house was not ransacked and other jewelry to the value of more than $60,000 was not stolen was probably due to the crying of Mrs. Woera's child, who was awakened by the thieves. The first knowledge any one had of the burglary was when Mrs. Woers and two daughters and two servants returned from court in an automobile. The Woerzes entered the house without a greeting from their three dogs which usually are very active

The silence of the dogs aroused suspicion and a search was first made for them. They were found lying in a stupor in a room off the main hall Mrs. Woerz then went to her rooms and found the carpets turned up, the beds torn apart and the bureau drawers open and their contents strewn about. A three stone diamond ring valued at $2,000, a ten stone diamond pin valued at $2,000, a ten stone diamond pin valued at over $3,000, a diamond set gold watch, a pearl necklace two feet long and a roll of bills containing $70 were missing. On the bureau were valuable silver toilet articles and in the drawer were several gold articles, one a gold card case worth $200. In another room of the suite the thieves ransacked all the drawers but took nothing. In a locked room scross the hall Mrs. Woerz kept a valuable pearl necklace, many diamond and pearl pins and several rings, all valued at over $60,000.

Mrs. Woerz yesterday was slapped in the face and sworn at by the gardener, Kraft, who had charge of Mr Park's greenhouses. The sessualt was witnessed by the two oldest daughters of Mrs. Woerz and drawers open and their contents strewn Arat, who had charge of Mr Park's green-houses. The assault was witnessed by the two oldest daughters of Mrs. Woerz and two grants, who were all in court at the time of the robbery. Judge Burnes imposed a sentence of thirty days in jail, afterward changing the sentence to $15 and costs on condition that Kraft immediately leave town.

SIX PRISONERS FROM STEERAGE.

Hungarians Wanted at Home for Robbery Detectives Aiken and Moody of Police Headquarters boarded the Hamburg-American liner Deutschland at Quarantine yesterday and took six Hungarians from the steerage. The names of the six, which are not material to the story, were at no time uttered by the detectives, who got an interpreter to do the questioning and the pronouncing. The men are accused of almost killing a family in the little town of Vasc, Hungary, and robbing it of about $8,000. By an arrangement with the customs authorities the detectives were permitted to search the six accused and found that they had $3,000. They refused to answer questions. They were sent to Ellis Island and doubtless will be deported and arrested on their arrival in Hamburg, whence they sailed by the Deutschland.

Case Say They Need Testimony. Counsel for Mrs. Ben Teal, the wife of Counsel for Mrs. Ben Teal, the wife of the stage director, and Harry S. Mousley, a private detective, who were indicted for attempted subornation of perjury as a result of the charges that they were in a scheme to manufacure false evidence to be used against Frank J. Gould in the suit for divorce brought against him by his wife, appeared in General Sessions yesterday and asked leave to inspect the minutes of the Grand Jury that indicted them.

The lawyers said that they needed the evidence to prepare for trial. Assistant District Attorney Garvan opposed the motion and the lawyers were told by Judge Crain to submit briefs by September 4.

HABIRSHAW.—At a meeting of the Board of True-

mously adopted:
On Saturday, August 15, 1906, at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., William Martin Habirshaw died in the 74th year of his age.
From early manhood Dr. Habirshaw occupied (an honorable and distinguished position in both the business and soferstific world.
After retiring from the United States Navy, where he served as an engineer, he began his career as an analytical chemist and, soon rose to the front ranks in his profession. He became a member of the Chemical Society of London and of other scientific organizations both here and abroad.

both here and abroad. At an early date he perceived the com ti an early date he perceived the commercial possibilities of electricity and organized and became President and General Manager of the India Rubber and Guita Percha Insulating Company, a ploneer in this line. His sterring onesty and exceptional scientific ability gave the company a high standing. Its title was recently changed to that of the Habirshaw Wire Company, and he continued to maintain a most active interest in the affairs of this company up to the time of his death.

For the past five years he has been a sufferer from a disease which he knew to be incurable. During this long period he faced the inevitable with calmness and bravery. His honesty, hospitality, loyalty and exceptional scientific attainments drew around him a large circle of friends to whom his death will come as a deep personal loss, in which we, his close associates and fellow members of the Board of Trustees of the Habirshaw Wire Company,

Resolved, That as a mark of respect for the character of William M. Habirshaw and as an expression of our loss in his death, the works and general offices of the company be closed on the day of his funeral, Wednesday, August 19, 1908.

Resolved, That a copy of these minutes and resolved, that a copy of these minutes and resolutions be sent to his family.
